Planning and Assessment Manual

Office of Institutional Research and Effectiveness

Revised June 2012
By
The SACS-COC Leadership Team
What is Institutional Effectiveness? Institutional Effectiveness is the extent to which the college is meeting its mission and achieving its goals as demonstrated by a comprehensive, integrated, participatory planning and evaluation process that focuses on improvement in all aspects of college operations and educational outcomes.

- Essential Components of Institutional Effectiveness, SAIR Conference, 2002
Overview
As a regionally accredited university, Louisiana State University Eunice must identify expected outcomes for its educational programs and its administrative and educational support services; assess whether it achieves these outcomes; and provide evidence of improvement based on analysis of those results.

LSU Eunice’s Planning Process is based on the assumption that planning and evaluation is an integral part of all university operations and that employees and students will have an opportunity to be involved in the development and review of official planning documents.

LSU Eunice documents institutional effectiveness by employing a comprehensive system of planning and evaluation in all major aspects of its operation. Planning and evaluation of teaching, service, administration, and educational support is thorough, broad-based, integrated and appropriate. As evidence of institutional effectiveness, LSU Eunice provides documentation of planning, assessment, and the use of results in decision-making.

Planning and Evaluation Process
The LSU Eunice Planning and Evaluation Model provides the overall structure for a systematic review of programs and services. Using the model, LSU Eunice engages in a wide range of ongoing assessments of its effectiveness, and, guided by the assessment results, LSU Eunice develops and implements plans for continued improvements in accomplishing its mission. Based on an institutional mission statement that is reviewed each planning cycle, LSU Eunice establishes institutional goals and strategic priorities that are translated annually into institutional objectives and corresponding divisional and departmental objectives. The annual budget is developed to implement these objectives. Success in implementing the objectives is then measured by effectiveness indicators that are used in revising and developing plans for the next year. Throughout the cycle, policies and procedures are adjusted if performance indicators show that expected outcomes are not being achieved.

LSU Eunice’s Planning and Evaluation Model incorporates performance-based budgeting mandated for all state agencies under the Louisiana Performance Accountability System (LaPAS), which, in turn, is designed to help implement Louisiana Vision 2020: State of Louisiana Master Plan for Economic Development. The planning and evaluation model represents all segments of the University community and provides the overall structure for a systematic review of programs and services. Based on the mission statement, the model provides for LSU Eunice to engage in a wide range of ongoing assessments of its effectiveness, and, guided by the assessment results, develop and implement plans for continued improvements in accomplishing its mission. The systematic planning and evaluation also integrates resource planning, program evaluation, performance monitoring, and planning with the budgetary process to enhance institutional quality. Success in implementing the goals and objectives is then measured by effectiveness indicators that are used in revising and developing plans for the next year. This includes revising the mission statement if necessary. Throughout the cycle, policies and procedures are adjusted if performance indicators show that expected outcomes and/or the mission are not being achieved.

Annual Planning and Evaluation Cycle

During the planning and evaluation cycle, the three vice chancellors are responsible for the implementation and monitoring of progress toward meeting objectives related to goals in their areas and making modifications based on the evaluation and review process. Planning forms are used to define annual goals for each planning unit, state objectives, identify links with institutional and other planning goals, list expected outcomes, describe assessment procedures, and indicate budget requirements. Unit assessment forms are used to summarize assessment findings and provide recommendations for improvement based on the findings.

In the current planning and evaluation cycle, the Mission Statement and Strategic Plan is reviewed and revised as necessary in October/November. The institutional goals and objectives for the next year are established and published in October/November. Using the online planning and evaluation system, individual units review and revise goals, objectives and forecasts from January through March and also develop next year’s objectives and budget requests. During April, the Budget Review Committee meets to review and prioritize unit budget requests for the upcoming year. Although assessment is ongoing throughout the year, individual units conduct annual performance reviews in June through July. Unit assessments should be completed by the end of August. In September or the beginning of October, the institutional research staff compiles the individual reports into the Annual Summary Report on Institutional Effectiveness. In mid-October, the Administrative Council reviews the outcomes of the previous year’s activities and makes appropriate recommendations. The Executive Planning Committee conducts a final review in October or November in preparation for the next planning cycle.

Improvements in Planning and Evaluation

The current Planning and Evaluation Model provides for more input and participation than in the past by directly involving campus units in all aspects of the cycle. The updated process adds budget requests to the planning forms to provide the Budget Review Committee with better planning information. Additionally, the model now includes publication of the annual summary report on effectiveness so that the campus at large can follow the progress and see where future efforts should be concentrated.
Annual Assessment Plan

Each Institutional Planning Unit must develop an Annual Assessment Plan documenting the accomplishment of annual goals and objectives that includes the following elements:

- Unit Mission: A broad, comprehensive statements of the unit’s purpose.
- Unit Vision: A compelling conceptual image of the desired future.
- Unit Goals: A general statement of what is to be accomplished tied to the mission statement and strategic plan.
- Objectives: Specific, measurable outcome statements for the accomplishment of goals that include student learning outcomes (where appropriate).
- Assessment/Evaluation Strategies: The methods used to accomplish objectives.
- Assessment/Evaluation Results: Statement of progress toward accomplishment of objectives.
- Improvement Plans: Statement of changes made based on assessment/evaluation results.
- Participation: Those involved in plan development and evaluation.

The Annual Assessment Plan does not have to evaluate every goal from the Strategic Plan; however, it must include an assessment of those goals that are perceived to be priorities for the current year.

Departmental goals and objectives should be created in support of the overall institutional mission and vision while focusing on strategies that will contribute to the achievement of the published institutional goals and objectives derived from the strategic plan.

To assist in the departmental planning process, the following documents are attached:

- LSU Eunice Mission and Vision Statements
- LSU Eunice Institutional Goals
- LSU Eunice goals and objectives from the 2011-12 through 2015-16 Strategic Plan

LSU Eunice Mission and Vision Statements

Mission: Louisiana State University Eunice, a member of the Louisiana State University System, is a comprehensive, open admissions institution of higher education. The University is dedicated to high quality, low-cost education and is committed to academic excellence and the dignity and worth of the individual. To this end, Louisiana State University Eunice offers associate degrees, certificates and continuing education programs as well as transfer curricula. Its curricula span the liberal arts, sciences, business and technology, pre-professional and professional areas for the benefit of a diverse population. All who can benefit from its resources deserve the opportunity to pursue the goal of lifelong learning and to expand their knowledge and skills at LSU Eunice.

Consistent with its mission, Louisiana State University Eunice works to achieve the following goals:

1. Students complete associate degree or certificate programs prepared to enter the work force.
2. Students complete the first two or more years of baccalaureate study prepared to transfer to four-year institutions to complete their degrees.
3. Students fulfill general education and continuing education needs through a variety of educational offerings at various teaching sites and times.
4. Students who need developmental instruction acquire the knowledge and skills to prepare them for collegiate study.
5. Students receive support and assistance in reaching academic, personal, career, and employment goals.
6. Students participate in extracurricular activities to meet personal, artistic, or intellectual interests.
7. Students find facilities and resources adequate in classrooms, laboratories, the library, and recreational areas.
8. Citizens of LSU Eunice’s service area find educational opportunities to meet changing employment needs.
9. Citizens experience cultural enrichment and personal development through participating in programs offered as a community service.

Vision: To Establish LSU Eunice as the model comprehensive two-year college in Louisiana through a total institutional commitment to quality, “state-of-the-art” education, and student success in: degrees, transfer preparation, career education, adult/workforce education, and customized business/industry training.

Annual Planning and Evaluation Calendar

| October - November | Review and/or Revise Institutional Strategic Plan
Each year LSU Eunice Planning and Evaluation is based upon the prior year performance and revised as necessary. |
|------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| October - November | Set Institutional Goals and Objectives for next academic year.
Institutional goals and objectives are set and published based upon the LSU Eunice Planning and Evaluation Cycle. Goals and objectives may also be added as a result of other institutional planning projects such as the state mandated performance indicators as found in LaPAS, the Louisiana Performance Accountability System or the LA Grad Act. |
| January – March | Review and/or Revise Unit Objectives and Forecasts for current year.
Many factors contribute to the successes required to reach institutional as well as unit goals and objectives. The LSU Eunice Planning and Evaluation process recognizes this and allows campus units to adjust their objectives and forecasts as needed during the year. |
| January – March | Set Unit Goals for following academic year.
Based upon published institutional goals and each unit’s individual mission, goals are set for the upcoming year. Direct and indirect measures are to be included. |
| January – March | Develop following academic year’s Unit Objectives and Operating Budgets
Complete and return Planning Forms for each established unit objective. These should be tied to institutional goals and objectives and reflect the individual mission of the unit. Appropriate budget requests should be included as part of the planning forms when the success of the objective is contingent upon appropriate funding. |
| April | Budget Review Process
The budget review committee meets to review and prioritize unit budget requests for the upcoming year. The committee recommendations are used to allocate any additional funds received over those of the previous year. |
| May | Legislature Approves Executive Budget
The Louisiana Executive Budget is normally approved by the legislature before adjournment of their scheduled annual session in May of each year. |

| June – July         | Conduct Unit Performance Reviews
While assessment of performance is an ongoing endeavor, planning units should begin to gather and review the data needed to perform their annual review.  |                                                                                                                                              |
| July - August       | Assess Performance and Outcomes
Outcomes Assessment forms are to be completed for each unit objective submitted during the planning cycle. Special consideration should be given to the documentation of activities that fulfilled expected outcomes created as a result of previous year’s deficiencies including any direct or indirect measurement. This is often referred to as “Closing the Loop”.  |                                                                                                                                              |

- Denotes planning activities for next academic year.
MISSION: (A broad, comprehensive statement of the organization's purpose.)

Example 1: Campus Office
The mission of the Bursar's Office is to provide cashiering and student loan services to our customers in an efficient, timely and customer-oriented manner. This will be accomplished in accordance with the mission of the University of Wisconsin - Madison, by following regulations of all appropriate governing agencies and by implementing sound financial procedures and controls.

Example 2: Academic Department
The Computer Science Department at Tennessee Technological University provides an undergraduate program in Computer Science grounded in fundamental principles of computing. These include the necessary skills for data structures and algorithmic design, as well as hardware, software and integrated applications design. We prepare our students to apply these principles creatively and responsibly. We also prepare our students to exhibit a high degree of professionalism and a clear understanding of the consequences involved in the violation of ethical and/or legal issues in computer science. We encourage the generation and dissemination of knowledge for the benefit of mankind. Our students are guided and encouraged to apply their knowledge for scientific and technological development.

VISION: (A compelling conceptual image of the desired future.)

Example 1: Campus Office
The Bursar's Office vision is to:
- Continue development, maintenance, and enhancement of automated system processing.
- Create cost effective and innovative solutions to changes in regulatory requirements.
- Contribute to the enrichment and advancement of staff members.
- Continue to evaluate policies and procedures to accomplish our mission in a changing environment.

Example 2: Academic Department
We will be a leader in computer science education in the State of Tennessee, attracting its motivated students. Our graduates will be prepared to succeed and contribute to society. We will strive to be recognized for our scholarly endeavors, meeting the technological and scientific needs of local industry, government and society. We will provide a high-quality education for our graduates, helping them to learn and pursue lifelong scholarly activities.

Characteristics of Effective Programs

It is suggested that units use these standards as a means to determine their organization's effectiveness.

What does the office/department strive to accomplish?

A mission statement for the office/department that:

1. Delineates the reasons for the office's/department's existence.
2. Links the program to the educational mission of the University.
3. Identifies constituencies that are served.
4. Is updated, revised and approved annually.

How does the office/department go about achieving its mission?

A set of intended outcomes for the office/department that:

1. Are clear, concise, specific and measurable.
2. Define and pursue excellence.
3. Are established at least annually.
4. Are collaborative where possible, both within and beyond the University.
5. Utilize results obtained from prior evaluation/assessment efforts.

A planning/budgeting process that:

1. Is based on a knowledge of the needs, expectations and perspectives of constituent groups.
2. Emanates from the intended goals/objectives.
3. Incorporates relevant "futuring" literature.
4. Provides opportunities for participation by faculty/staff in the office/department.
5. Provides long-term direction as well as short-term focus.

Commitment to diversity:

1. In the creation, maintenance and evaluation of an office/department environment that fosters civility.
2. In the recruitment and retention of students, where appropriate.
3. In the recruitment, promotion and retention of faculty/staff.
4. In programming.
5. In services.

Management of human resources that:

1. Identifies performance standards for faculty/staff.
2. Conducts annual written evaluations of faculty/staff based on the standards of performance.
3. Specifies annual professional development objectives for all faculty/staff.
4. Recruits, promotes and retains qualified faculty/staff.
5. Identifies, designs, and promotes opportunities for the further education and training of faculty/staff.
6. Provides opportunities for faculty/staff to receive feedback from colleagues, supervised faculty/staff, and students.

Communications that:

1. Provide for appropriate sharing of information within the office/department.
2. Inform other offices/departments in a timely manner of decisions that may have an impact on them.
3. Provide for sharing of information with constituent groups.

Management of finances that:

1. Results in office/department expenditures not exceeding the annual budget without prior authorization.
2. Conforms to all state and university policy and procedures.
3. Results in expenditures being directly related to office/department goals/objectives.
4. Establishes an appropriate internal control structure.

Management of technology that:

1. Insures that faculty/staff have achieved necessary skill levels.
2. Documents office/department procedures relating to the use of technology.
3. Provides appropriate security access to data.
4. Conforms to all state and university policies and procedures.
5. Provides cross-training of staff in critical/essential functions.

Collaborative efforts that:

1. Actively seek out other offices/departments involvement in establishing intended outcomes.
2. Involve other offices/departments in decision-making, where appropriate.
3. Emphasize involvement in the pursuit of objectives identified by other offices/departments.

Service to constituents that:

1. Initiates and maintains positive working relationships.
2. Seeks out and responds to constituent needs.
3. Is timely, accurate and respectful of constituents.
4. Includes participation on related committees, on or off campus.

Office/department practices that:

1. Meet ethical standards of the profession.
2. Comply with all federal, state and local laws.

How does the office/department determine that its objectives have been achieved?
Assessment/evaluation efforts that:

1. Include periodic program reviews.
2. Provide for external input into program reviews.
3. Determine satisfaction/dissatisfaction levels of constituents.
4. Obtain and utilize comparative information on programs and services of peers.
5. Identify and determine targets for appropriate performance measures/benchmarks.
6. Determine the extent to which excellence is achieved.
7. Assess learning delineated in intended objectives.
8. Evaluate intended administrative objectives.
9. Are utilized at least annually in the allocation of program resources.

Program Review Options Show:

1. Office/Department is in total compliance with the characteristic.
2. Office/Department is in partial compliance with the characteristic and the following recommendations are made.
3. Office/Department is not in compliance with the characteristic and the following recommendations are made.
